New, Tall Steeple Placed On Local Church

A new spire, to replace the old steeple weakened by the great New England hurricane of September 1938 and shortly afterward taken down, was erected on the old tower base on Wednesday.

The new structure completes a 120-foot high colonial steeple in keeping with the Georgian colonial architecture of the church edifice. Surmounting the new work is the original weathervane that was atop the old steeple.

The restoration of the church by the new spire is the fulfillment of the dream of the many members of the congregation who remember the building as it was before the hurricane.

The new structure, in white, is constructed on a steel frame which ties in with the old wooden columns that are still the basic members supporting the tower. The steel is carried from the 40-foot level on up to the top of the spire. The lower portion of the new work has a wood covering over the frame. The final cone is of aluminum.

Built in two sections on the ground in front of the church, the spire was hoisted by crane to position on the old tower base in two stages. The final operation lifted the 25-foot pyramid 125 feet into the air, to set it on its pedestal.

After the hurricane, Rev. Laurence L. Barber salvaged the weathervane which has been kept all these years in the church. It has been refurbished and now stands in its original lofty spot.

The restoration was designed by Charles H. Cole, 2nd., A.I.A., of Lexington, as Architect. The builder was Donald S. Tait, Inc., of Belmont. Engineering design of the steel frame was by the Melvin Jay Engineering firm.

Individuals and groups of the Pleasant St. Congregational church have contributed the funds that have made the new steeple possible under the leadership of a committee elected two years ago.

Members of the committee are: George A. Riese, chairman; Kenneth M. Barney, William W. Eakins, W. Dale Barker, Melvin F. H. Jay, Mrs. Andrew A. Magnus, Guy R. Sturgeon, Gordon P. Thompson, Mrs. G. Edward Wilkins, Mrs. Harold B. Wood and Rev. Stuart C. Haskins.

Blizzard Leaves 12 Inch Snow Fall; Costs Town $25,000 To Clean Up

Arlington was caught in the grip of an old-fashioned blizzard on Monday which brought gale winds and snow accumulations ranging from eight inches in some sections to drift measurements of from 14-16 inches.

One of the aftermaths of the storm is the estimated cost of snow removal which Town Manager Edward C. Monahan estimates might reach close to $25,000.

The snow removal crews started at noon Monday with the sanding and grading of hills. The gale winds and extreme cold made it virtually impossible to make much headway as the storm gained intensity. Drifting of the snow made it necessary for the plowing teams to retrace their routes over and over.

Town Manager Monahan made emphatic reference to the outstanding efforts of the removal crews who had to work long hours on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. He stated they had worked under the worst of conditions, winds and bitter cold. He also stated that it would take at least three more days to complete residual removal.

Because of early warnings, car owners were co-operative in not parking on streets. This prevented a street plowing problem.

The Town's new loaders, which can handle 12 trucks at a time, have stepped up the removal of the snow.

90 Vacancies For T.M. Seats

Town Clerk Ann Mahon announced this week that there are 90 known vacancies in the town meeting membership to be filled at the annual Town election on Monday, March 2, 1964.

Of this number, 81 are the usual three-year vacancies resulting from the annual expiration of the terms of one third of the total number of town meeting members.

At the present time there are 58 announced candidates for the three-year terms, of whom 44 are candidates for re-election.

The remaining 9 vacancies are for one- and two-year unexpired terms of town meeting members who have resigned, moved, passed away.

Average Yearly Aid $45,000 - - -

Federal Opposition Worries Officials

Arlington is faced with the possible loss of Federal Aid to its school system, yearly aid averaging between $40,000-$45,000 has been received by the Town for several years.

Supt. of Schools, Dr. Bert Roens, revealed this week that the passage of the so-called "Federal Aid to Education for Impaired Areas" law did not go through as expected.

In a news release during the week of Dec. 26, Cong. Robert H. MacDonald of this district reported the House of Representatives had passed this bill which he strongly supported. However, the bill did not go through the Senate.

As the matter stands at the present time, the bill has been referred to a joint conference committee for discussion of a few details brought out by the Senate.

According to information received by Dr. Roens, the House refused to meet for the discussion during the 1963 session and the matter is still not settled.

Dr. Roens is considerably concerned since Senator Saltonstall states that he is not certain when the bill will be discussed during the 1964 session.

Arlington has received a total of $336,064 under this Federal Aid bill since its beginning. This has enabled the School Department to proceed with several projects without adding to the budget supplied by the Town.

Among the items financed by the Federal funds is a new math program, data processing, salaries for substitute teachers and a sum used to make up a deficit in text book expenditures.

Dr. Roens states that the present bill expires in June and unless the extension is passed, the aid will cease.

Tina Second — 1964 Olympics Next Venture

One of the youngest members of the U. S. Olympic team of 1964, will be Arlington's 15-year old Tina Noyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Noyes.

Tina placed second in competition for the national senior women's title and lost first place by a mere 200th of a point in the final scoring, to Peggy Fleming of Pasadena, California.

Tina will make the trip to the Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria on Jan. 29 to Feb. 9, and all who have been rooting for her hope, her dreams are realized and she returns with a "gold medal".

Realistically, her mother has stated that they are so thrilled with Tina's accomplishments to date, that placing first in the Olympics is expected a lot but Tina's target is 1968.

We Cannot Wait

It is heartening to know that our Board of Selectmen have "gone to the top" in sending a letter to Governor Endicott Peabody regarding the hazardous traffic conditions at the intersection of Route 2 and Lake st.

This is not their first attempt to have the safety of not only the citizens of Arlington but of all travelers on Route 2, protected in the best possible manner.

However, their numerous communications and requests to officials in various departments of the state government over the past five years have either gone unheeded or received a pat answer. Mostly, they have been told that nothing can be done because of the "possible relocation of Route 2."

The Board requested an overpass at the intersection for the protection of the many children who cross. This was turned down.

The Board requested attendance by State Police at the intersection, particularly during the hours of 4-6 p.m. This was granted for short periods, but no definite continued program has been put in force.

In the meantime, the accident toll mounts.

During 1963 alone, there were 68 accidents within the Arlington limits of Route 2. There were 3 fatalities.

The fatality last week has brought the matter again into the limelight and our Board of Selectmen feel there can be no more shrugging off of the need for a solution.

Copies of the letter to the Governor have been sent to Public Works Commissioner Fitzgerald and Registrar of Motor Vehicles Lawton.

The Board specifically has requested that left turns from Route 2 onto Lake st. be prohibited on both the east and west bound lanes. Another intermediate solution might be arrow lights at the intersection.

At any rate, we must now wait and see.

But, we don't feel the matter should be dropped until another accident or fatality. Let's keep at this problem until something definite is done.

With a state-wide safety program underway, let's see that Arlington's problems are acknowledged and suitable action taken.

In other words, we cannot wait.

That Man About Town

By MAT

We think the town's snow fighters did one of the best jobs ever. Of course, there was plenty of warning, and many left for home early. Yet, the "foundation" for a good job had to be laid during the rush hour.

One type of driver we would like to poke in the nose is the guy that won't let you keep coming up a hill when he is going down—in a spot where there is room for only one. Often, you cannot get going again, even with chains. And, then there is usually a car or three behind in the same fix.

Maybe they've tried but we cannot understand why tire manufacturers cannot imbue more abrasives into snow tires to overcome icy spots. Also, why can't auto makers install a special lever to the differential, so that both wheels must turn, not just the one which is ice?

Enough for inventions. Besides, we won't get any royalties, anyway.

MAT (Men About Town) should be happy that Selectman Arthur Saul has decided to re-run. Without him in the race the two "kids"—Bilifer and Feeley—would win.

While both are attorneys and fine young men, Saul will make a fine anchor—a man of perception, experience and know-how.

Neither will beat Saul, in our opinion. So, the two young gladiators will have the field to themselves for spc vacated by State Senator Pellegrini, unless others enter.

To be a bit corny, history usually repeats itself. Several years back Att'y Dan Buckley ran and won, easily, for Selectman—the son of a prominent physician today. Att'y Kevin Feeley is running for the same post—the son of a prominent physician. A family doctor usually becomes a beloved name in any household—second only to the Almighty.

Naturally, this helps Feeley aplenty. However, Feeley isn't Buckley and Buckley isn't Feeley. So, it is not as easy as that. That is where "history repeats" ends.

Remember that Dan Buckley had an extensive law practice. He first was associated with Francis Keefe's office, then on his own. So, he had a big name in his own right.

Birthday Dinner For Former Pastor

The Rev. Robert M. Rice, former pastor of the First Universalist church, will preach to his former parishioners on Sunday, Jan. 19, on the topic, "The Changing Climate of Modernity."

After the service, a covered dish dinner will be served in the vestry in honor of the church's 123rd birthday, Jan. 20.

Mrs. Robert Spence is chairman of the dinner, to which members and friends are bringing casseroles, salads, and birthday cakes, along with "birthday bags", little pouches of gay materials in which members put a penny for each of their years.

There's a saying that some people achieve greatness, while others have it thrust upon them, and there are some who are just plain cute, and spend much time figuring out a way in which to become famous.

"Wrong way Corrigan" who started to fly his plane to California, but lost his way and flew the Atlantic Ocean comes under the heading of a "cutie", and over the years was feted from Coast to Coast.

But, back in November 1935, at the Palmer Stadium at Princeton, a gentleman in a raccoon coat stole the show and received much publicity, and became known as the 12th man on the Dartmouth Football team.

It was late in the 4th quarter, snowing quite hard, and Princeton had the ball on the Indians 5-yd. line. They came out of the huddle, and just before the ball was snapped, there appeared from nowhere a gent in a soft hat, raccoon coat and goloshes. He lined up between the tackle and end of Dartmouth, and before he could be stopped, the play started and "Mr. Raccoon" was the first man into the Princeton backfield.

He ran into the blocking back, and then was buried on a reverse play, but "held" Princeton to no gain. When they unpled No. 12 was at the bottom, and he then was escorted from the Stadium with 11 of New Jersey's finest as his interference.

The stunned Umpire that day was Arlington's Selectman George Lowe, who didn't believe what he saw, even though it was there right before his eyes.

Inasmuch as Princeton was leading 26 to 6, the officials did nothing about it, but did a lot of thinking later as to what could have happened if it had been a close game.

Or, as Grantland Rice wrote the following day, "supposing he had recovered a fumble?"

Dan Kelly, another official, was at that time chairman of the Boxing Commission for the Commonwealth of Mass., and the night before, he made a ruling that was contrary to all boxing laws. But it was made for the benefit of the paying public.

At the Boston Garden, Jack Sharkey was making a come back after losing his title as heavyweight boxing champion of the world. His opponent was "Unknown" Winston from Conn., and 15,000 were in attendance. Winston went down for the count in the first round and the crowd charged the ring and pandemonium reigned.

As "Unknown" lay "dead to the world", Comm. Kelley went over and in loud voice said that his purse of $2000 would be forfeited, if he didn't get up. Well, no bucket of ice water or smelling salts could have had a better effect. Winston jumped to his feet at once.

Kelley then made his unusual ruling, stating, that after a 10 minute rest they would start all over again, which they did. And Sharkey knocked him out for the second time in the 3rd round. Sharkey received a purse of $5000 for that fight, but never did make his comeback.

Austin Lake, another official in the football game at Princeton, insisted Kelley bar Winston for life, but later compromised and the sentence was for one year. A wierd 24 hours in the life of an official.

The Most Valuable Player Award given each year to the player so voted by the coaching staff was made to co-Captain Billy Morris by Trustee Hurd.

AHS Icemen Held 0-0 By Brookline

Brookline High, sparked by a sensational 25 save performance by goalie Jeff Cohen, held high-flying Arlington to a scoreless tie and stayed within one point of the league leaders, in last week's GBI hockey game at the Boston Arena.

Cohen, who has allowed only four goals in six games, was pelted with 13 shots in the first period, eight in the second and four in the third.

Bill Langon, in the Arlington nets, who had allowed only two goals in six games, made 12 saves in registering his fourth shutout.

Charlie Toczylowski scored at the 7 minute mark of the first period but the goal was nullified because an Arlington player was caught inside the Brookline goalcrease.

It was an upset for the Brookline six, now the only team this season to have held one of the highest scoring Arlington teams in years to a goose egg.

The shut-out was something Coach Eddie Burns has been worried about since the opening game, despite the fact that his charges have poured in 34 goals to date.

"Sooner or later we're going to come up against a goalie who's having a real hot day and the test is going to be in not just outskating the other club, but being able to put the puck in the net," noted Burns.

And that's just what happened last week, the Bruinsmen threw everything at Jeff Cohen but couldn't get on the scoreboard.

Arlington, by virtue of the tie, stays on top of the GBI race with 11 points, one point ahead of Newton and Brookline.

Saturday, while the varsity seniors were busy with college Board examinations, Arlington met Brookline for the second time in a week, in an exhibition match at the Boston Arena, and gave the fans and coaches alike a glimpse at what's in store for next year. Using three goalies, one defenseman and four forwards from the junior varsity to bolster the undergraduate varsity squad, the Spyponders rolled up an impressive 6 to 0 win.

Coach Eddie Burns, getting a look at the rookies in action from the press box, was pleased with the new crop. "We have these boys from the JV's and a real good freshman team, so next year it will be a real dogfight for the varsity," Burns commented.

Fred Dolan and Peter Morse scored unassisted goals in the first period and John Deveaux added one in the second, on passes from Ed Ronan and Charlie Toczylowski.

With just 42 seconds into the third period, Toczylowski scored from Deveaux and Bertagna. Two minutes later, Ed Ronan fired a shot between the Brookline goaltender's pads to make it 5 to 0.

Toczylowski ended the scoring with his second goal of the game at 6:42.

This Saturday, January 18, Arlington meets last-place Medford.

JV's Win One - And Lose One

The Arlington High Junior Varsity hockey team split a pair of games last week, dropping a 3 to 1 decision to Melrose JV's and shutting out the Belmont JV's 5 to 0. The split gives the locals a season record of two wins, two losses, and a tie.

Wings 4, Canadiens 0
Chuck McCann performed the "hat trick" as the rugged Wings blasted the Canadiens 4-0. McCann's first goal was a high scorcher from the blue line that caught the upper right corner. Wayne Ogden fed in the play. His second score was on a breakaway from his own zone, and his final marker was another high shot from the left boards.

Bob Shea added the fourth goal assisted by Tom Blouin. Don McKensie, the Wings' net minder, had a real fine day and turned back the Canucks time after time.

Leafs 2, Rangers 0
Joe Demita and Wayne Hale each scored a goal as the Leafs edged the Rangers 2-0 and moved into top position. Demita started the Leafs scoring when he banged one home after taking a pass from Wayne Hale. Hale added the insurance marker as he tapped in a goal on a feed from Mike Curry. John McKenna and Ralph Guanci both made some timely stops in the nets.

Hawks 0, Maroons 0
The Hawks had a chance to climb to the top spot but the Maroons were tough and wouldn't give an inch.

It was a close battle with both teams having golden opportunities. In the closing moments, a Maroon forward had a breakaway but a great stop by Jerry Guanci saved the Hawks from defeat.

Bruins 0, Rockets 0
The Bruins and Rockets made it two scoreless games in succession as they battled for a half hour without a tally.

The Rockets, who looked strong last week, could not seem to get their attack going.

The Bruins defense was alert and cleared the puck at the right moments.

Jack Glennon and Steve Dulling both gained their first shut-outs as they turned back several dangerous shots.

JACK CARNEY, left, coach of the Arlington Catholic entry in the Fidelity House sponsored Art Ross Hockey League, talks things over with his captain, Paul Brown.

Arlington Catholic, playing its first hockey game ever, bowed to St. Joseph's of Malden last week.

This Thursday, Jan. 16, Arlington Catholic meets the Cabot Club of Waltham at 7:00 p.m., then at 9:20 p.m., St. Peter's of Dorchester clashes with St. Joseph's of Malden, in a battle of the undefeated.

Arl. Arcadians In First Place Tie

Jack Cusack's sudden-death overtime goal gave the Arlington Arcadians a 5 to 4 win over the Lynn Hockey club in a wide-open, hard checking, Massachusetts Hockey League game, Tuesday.

The win moved the Arcadians into a first place tie with the Everett Sweepers.

Richie Cavanaugh, former Northwestern star, opened the scoring early in the first period when he picked up a deflected shot and raced from his own zone with Paul Aiken on a two man breakaway. Aiken took Cavanaugh's pass, pulled Tomdrea the Lynn goalie, and passed back to Cavanaugh who finished the play on an open net.

Cavanaugh and Aiken combined again in the first frame, the latter fed a goalmouth pass to Cavanaugh who lifted a shot over the Lynn goalie for his second goal and a 2 to 0 Arlington lead.

Lynn exploded for three goals in the second period.

Lynn came right back to score off the next face-off and took the lead again, till George Lambert tallied for the Arcadians on passes from Dick Rodenhiser and Cusack, to send the game into overtime.

At 2:33 of the sudden-death overtime period, Jack Cusack blasted a 20 footer over the Lynn goalie's shoulder for the game winning goal. Defenseman Don Ellis and John Chambers set up Cusack's goal.

A Big Time At Rufftown For Boys

Three hundred members of the Arlington Boys' Club journeyed to Rufftown, Wyoming, U.S.A. Friday.

They experienced everything from an airplane ride on the Rufftown Express to a complete medical exam, to a barrel ride over a waterfall, through sundry mazes, tunnels and climaxed by a 60-foot ride home on the Rufftown Mono-train.

Fifty volunteer adults and older boy members assisted the Boys' Club staff in conducting this affair as they acted out the imaginary characters such as Indian chief, surgeon, nurse, train and plane attendants, etc.

The Rufftown program was created through the imagination of "Pop" Welch, volunteer group leader, and under the direction of Program Director Bob Kiernan. Boys' Club staff members Bob Delano, Don Fallon, John Spencer, George McKewen, Kiernan, and older members gave many hours voluntarily in building Rufftown.

Volunteers who participated in this affair and recorded their names with Pop Welch were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milley, Mr. and Mrs. John Fucile, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Balski, Mrs. Faustina Dorr, Mrs. Ruth Faulkner, Mrs. Valerie Delano, Dan Brosnan, Mary Ann Campbell, Charles Adams, Gil Johnson, Jack Mahon, Arthur O'Brien, George Baratta.

Also helping were Mrs. Elsie Fiore, Mr. David Leone, Mrs. P. MacNeil, Mr. Bernard Piacopo, Mr. Barrett, Mrs. Ann MacMillan, Mrs. Kay Gorell, Mr. Jack Goss, Arthur O'Brien, Henry and Bob Bulens, Jack Meehan, and others who did not register.

In summarizing the activity, Director Brud Faulkner made the following comment: "In my eleven years in the Boys' Club field, I have never participated in a more creative, unique and imaginative experience for boys and I must say their expressions of joy were most gratifying to all who participated."

Francis Brennan, a senior at Norwich University in Northfield, Vt., is playing a defense position on the cadet hockey team this winter.

A graduate of New Preparatory school in Cambridge, he is a son of Mrs. Catherine Brennan of 77 Beacon st.

Frosh Hockeymen In 7-0 Shutout

John Alessandrini scored the hat-trick and Bob Heavern contributed two goals and three assists as Arlington High's freshman hockey team rolled to a 7 to 0 win over Archbishop Williams Froshmen last week.

Ed Walsh and Mark Driscoll shared shutout honors for the locals, and Bill Corkery, a one hundred pound eighth grader, scored his first game goal on a pretty solo play.

Alessandrini scored his first, early in the game on a pass out from Heavern, moments later, "Mighty Mite" Corkery slipped past the Archbishop Williams defensemen and fired a 15 footer over the goaltender's shoulder to make the score 2 to 0.

Heavren netted the next two, one on a lead pass from Jack Byrne and the other, in the second period, from Bartholomew.

Shea tallied in the final frame, to up the score to 5 to 0, then Alessandrini added two more, both on assists from Heavern, for his hat-trick.

Clippers Bow

St. Agnes Clipper's bowed to St. Mary's of Winchester, 4 to 3, in a CYO hockey league game at B. C.'s McHugh Forum, Sunday.

The rally fell short in the third frame when St. Mary's scored on a power play while St. Agnes was short-handed, for a 4 to 2 lead. Jack Curry narrowed the gap to 4 to 3 at the midway mark of the final period.

St. Agnes' Coach, Ed Sartori, pulled goalie Art Corbett in favor of a sixth forward with a minute remaining, but St. Mary's held off the power play try for the equalizer.

MELT ICE & SNOW
36 TIMES FASTER

with PROPELLANT 49

Most powerful ice and snow melter known—
yet PROPELLANT 49
is completely harmless.

Keep ice and snow under control this winter with PROPELLANT 49. Just distribute this super-density pellet lightly over frozen ice and snow, on sidewalks, steps, ramps, shipping docks and parking areas. Exothermic heat action builds up at once. Ice and snow melts 36 times faster than with salt.

You'll discover too, that PROPELLANT 49 unlike some ice melters, won't attack cement, metal, grass and shrubs. Manufactured with a special neutralizer, it actually protects your property, while it does this incredibly fast ice and snow melting job. 100% chemically active, PROPELLANT 49 is economical to use. There's no residue—no waste. Nothing to track-in on asphalt tile or expensive carpeting. You save all ways. You use less material, and have no big clean-up expense afterwards.

PROPELLANT 49 is your safe, sure, clean solution to ice and snow removal problems. Don't take chances.

Library Commissioner Appointed

Long an active and registered borrower at the Robbins Library George D. Blackwood of 96 Columbia rd., was congratulated there last week by Librarian Miss Judith E. Stromdahl upon his recent appointment as a member of the board of Library Commissioners of the Massachusetts Division of Library Extension.

He was named to the post by Governor Peabody to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. George R. Wallace, following her resignation.

The Division of Library Extension is a function of the Mass. Dept. of Education. Not only does it exercise a continuing advisory role, but its administrative responsibilities have vastly increased with the recent passage of federal and state library legislation, which the Division implements.

Its activities include the maintenance of a reference collection, an interlibrary loan service, and a placement file. Also, the collection and furnishing of library statistics, the operation of regional library centers, the certification of librarians, and arrangements for workshops and special conferences.

Members of the board of Library Commissioners give their time without monetary compensation, and Blackwood brings wide experience and a distinguished history in education, teaching, and public service to his new post.

A specialist in American history, he received his A.B., A.M. and Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, where he was a teaching assistant before coming to Boston University as an instructor in Political Economy in 1949. In 1952 he was promoted to assistant professor, in 1957 to associate professor, and to Professor in 1963.

At the University, Professor Blackwood is co-ordinator of the citizenship project which stimulates student interest and activity in public affairs, has been adviser of several student groups and faculty chairman of Senate council.

He is a member of the American Historical association, the American Political Science association, and the Mississippi Valley Historical association.

In Arlington, Blackwood served as a Town Meeting Member 1958-61, and has also served in various activities connected with Massachusetts state government. For example, from 1960 to date he has been Director of the Massachusetts Senior Internship program, which is designed to attract and train graduate students in state governmental administration.

He is the author of special chapters in three books, "The Compleat Politician", "The Alienated Voter", and "The Uses of Power". His other publications include numerous articles on labor, education, and governmental topics.

The junior choir rehearsal will be held on Thursday at 7 p.m. in Fellowship hall.

It was recently announced by the Experiment in International Living, Putney, Vermont, that Kyriakos V. Saravelas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Venis Saravelas, 11 Baker rd., was appointed to lead a group of students to Greece this summer.

Saravelas was picked from several applicants from various parts of the United States and Canada. He speaks Greek like a native and is very well-versed in Greek culture and heritage.

"Kerry" attended the Greek Theological school, Brookline, and the Aristoteleion University of Thessaloniki, Greece. At present, he is in his final year at the University of Chicago, and will be receiving the degree of Master of Arts in Child Psychology in June.

The Experiment in International Living, founded in 1932, is a private, nonprofit organization in the field of international education.

The Experiment's philosophy is that significant advances toward world peace can be made at the individual level, by introducing people of one country to people of another country through the basic social structure of the family. The essential feature of each Experiment program, therefore, is one month spent as a member of a foreign family, in the pure meaning of the word foreign.

The Experiment boasts being the forerunner of the Peace Corps, and has such widely known alumni as R.

Sargent Shriver Jr., Director of the Peace Corps.

Sixty-seven per cent of the alumni are active, professionally or as volunteers, in some aspect of international relations.

The Experiment is open to all freshmen and sophomores in college, as well as qualified seniors in high school.

Cooperative overseas programs are sponsored by the State University of New York or Syracuse University, and combine an academic course with an Experiment homestay and travel experience; their unique advantage is that the country being visited becomes a classroom or laboratory.

If we will listen to and receive the Divine Being all obstructions to perception will be removed; our spiritual vision will be clear and perfect.

League of Women Voters

"Practices and Procedures of Town Meeting" have been studied by the Arlington League of Women Voters, as a local current agenda item, and now comes up for discussion at the League January unit meetings.

Arlington is one of the two Massachusetts towns having a "Standard Form" of Town Meeting.

What is the "Standard Form" of Town Meeting? Should the number of Town Meeting Members (240) be reduced? What is the role of the Moderator at Town Meeting? Do precincts vote as a block? These are only a few of the questions to be discussed.

Mrs. Roy Milley, chairman, invites all interested persons to attend any of the following meetings:

Tues., Jan. 21, 9:45 a.m., home of Mrs. John Meade, 26 Norfolk rd.

Wed., Jan. 22, 8 p.m., home of Mrs. George D. Blackwood, 96 Columbia rd.

Thurs., Jan. 23, 9:45 a.m., home of Mrs. Ralph Savio, 20 Jason st.

Thurs., Jan. 23, 8 p.m., home of Mrs. R. Victor Jones, 21 Kensington rd.

PERMANENT SPECIAL

A real shortie and a "flirty" version of the curly-head trend. It's decidedly a "Frenchie" fashion, with its curving-kiss curls, its gamine bangs its blunted strands caressing the nape. Top crown curls, coaxed into a soft pouf create a bit of height. Expert shaping is a "must" for a pretty shortdo. . . .

A Budget Plan To Suit Your Personal Needs

Behind The Business Scene

by Reynolds Knight

Sugar prices, which already have risen steeply enough this year to affect consumer pocketbooks, may soon post another sharp increase. This time the villain is Hurricane Flora, whose flooding rains and gales knocked the economy of Cuba, a major grower, into a cocked hat last week.

Actually no Cuban sugar has been coming into the U.S. since a trade embargo was effected against Fidel Castro. But the twist is that Cuba's output has gone into Communist countries and thereby helped answer collective world sugar needs; now those nations will exert their demand in the world market and drive the price upward. And the U.S. must obtain a large chunk of its sugar needs from the world market, and pay the price there.

American sugar companies operating domestically already have moved energetically to boost domestic production. Our best sugar crop for the current year is estimated at 21.8 million tons, 20 per cent more than was produced a year ago; about 1.2 million acres are now producing beet sugar — an all-time record, but far below our needs.

Even this advance is being offset pretty much by lower production in Western Europe where a poor crop last year helped trigger the world-market price rise. Thus the outlook domestically is for continued stiff price tags on refined sugar and the scores of food products that require sugar in their processing, well into 1964.

COLLEGE COST-SQUEEZE — Administrators of the nation's privately endowed colleges, faced with a projected increase of 8.5 million in the next decade, have been urged to exert their business ingenuity to provide the "highest quality education at the lowest possible cost."

They were told by Walter Lundell, president of C.I.T. Financial Corporation, that the growing philanthropic support of colleges by business, alumni groups, foundations and individuals still "will leave a very large financial gap if the obligations of private education are to be fulfilled in the next decade."

Speaking at the opening of a new three-dormitory complex at Ricker College, Houghton, Me., Mr. Lundell pointed out that the annual cost of providing education for the 8.5 million students in 1972 will be $10 billion compared to $4 billion today. The Ricker dorms, incidentally, are being financed under C.I.T.'s unique "pay-as-you-go" Campus Homes program under which the firm leases the building, with lease payments being made out of normal room rentals charged student occupants. At the end of the 12-year lease period the company gives title to the buildings to the college without further cost.

GAMA says it evident from these buildings — which are the culmination of the most advanced engineering available today — that gas will be making an even more important contribution to home comfort and convenience in the future than it has in the recent past.

And, the association adds, the Festival of Gas pavilion may provide the "launching pad" for large-scale adoption of year-round gas air conditioning.

THINGS TO COME — Your home fire extinguisher can be made more attractive with a new leather-type case in which it can be placed, tacked up to the wall; the case has a glass door sufficient to show its contents. For the home medical kit, cotton swab balls are marketed attached to plastic stems, and they're designed so they won't slip off the stem when wet. A combination suntan-aiding and ordinary desk lamp for businessmen has been developed by a Nevada company, switching a dial changes the light to the kind that promotes a tan, while another button sets the light for regular desk use.

NEW YORK — Economic forecasters are off and winging, as is their custom at this time of year. And while their predictions are for a generally sound economy in 1964, they're being careful not to fly as high and noisily as they did in 1960.

In that year the prognosticators seemed almost to be competing to determine who could paint the rosiest picture; then the economy slumped. While forecasts have since tended to carry more qualifications and utterances about '64 have their share — it is generally felt that the coming year will be good but not spectacular.

Industrial production last week hit a record level, pumping fat wages into millions of consumer pockets. The steel industry, which normally slows down with early snowfalls, has kept up a moderately brisk production pace and expects it to continue into next year's early months. Construction is counted on to generate considerable economic steam early in '64. One estimate is for total building in the year to top the current record year by about five per cent, attaining $85.5 billion.

However, one soft spot that could produce business downturns in localized areas is the apparent slow-down in spending for military base maintenance and some forms of military equipment. This may turn out to be the bugaboo of the '64 picture.

UNDERWATER 'MIKE' — The ability to detect sounds in the deepest parts of the ocean has been advanced significantly by the development of a stable, highly sensitive deep-water hydrophone. ACF Electronics, a division of ACF Industries, Incorporated, developed the device.

The cigar-shaped instrument, which functions as an underwater microphone, has operated successfully under the extreme hydraulic pressures prevailing at the ocean's greatest depth — 37,000 feet, according to Ellis Zacharias Jr., ACF underwater chief.

The hydrophone is intended for use in oceanographic research and submarine detection. In the case of the latter it may be used as a part of a shipboard sonar system, or on the ocean floor. In addition to defense applications, the new hydrophone, because of its deep-water operational suitability is expected to be of significant use in commercial, private and government oceanographic research.

Sound traveling through the water is received in the lower half of the 27-pound ACF hydrophone where a sensitive listening mechanism is located. This mechanism is protected from the sea water by a rubber "boot" filled with castor oil, used because it has the same acoustical or sound transmission properties as water.

COLLEGE COUNCIL — Paulette Concannon, 15 Newman Way, a junior at Bentley College of Accounting and Finance, is the glee club's representative to the college's Cultural Council, a council which discusses the problems of each organization at the college.

Paulette graduated with honors from Arlington High in 1961. At Bentley, she has been a member of the glee club and is presently the secretary of the Young Republican club and is an active member of the Humanities club.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By: William D. Grannan
"And oftentimes, excusing of a fault,
Doth make the fault the worse by the excuse.
As pat hee, set upon a little breach,
Discredit more in hiding of the fault,
Than did the fault before it was so patched."
— Shakespeare

Museum Of Science

A spiny, European animal that looks like an overgrown pomander ball has taken up temporary residence at Boston's Museum of Science.

Education Associate David D. Bonney identifies the new Animal Room occupant as a hedgehog, often confused with an American porcupine.

The two aren't even distantly related, says Bonney. The porcupine is a member of the rodent family, while the hedgehog, an insect-eating mammal, is more akin to the shrew or common garden mole.

Both, however, have pointed spines or quills. It is this resemblance, first noted by early American settlers, that has caused the confusion ever since. Actually, says Bonney, there is little similarity between the two. He explains it this way:

The porcupine's quills (specialized hairs) are black with white tips, have barbed ends, and can easily detach themselves from the animal's body. In defense, the porcupine slaps at its opponent with its tail, leaving a number of quills painfully imbedded in its victim.

The hedgehog, on the other hand, has smooth white-flecked brown spines curls up into a tight little ball, tucking its head and feet inside and keeping its prickly pines outside.

To learn these and other differences between the two animals, visitors to the Museum can now meet them both during the daily live animal demonstrations. In addition, they can also meet another Museum attraction—an albino porcupine born this spring in New Hampshire.

Every day the Museum's live animal demonstrations thrill and intrigue thousands of New England school children and adults who make the close-up acquaintance of a great horned owl, a six-foot indigo snake, or a porcupine. For small children, the Museum has found, live animals are a sure-fire way of exciting an interest in the wonders of science.

The Museum has had a porcupine in its collection ever since the famed Herkemiah I was found in New Hampshire more than 10 years ago. His current successor, Herkemiah III, now shares his cage with Albin, the newly acquired white-haired, pink-eyed albino. Albinism is a recessive trait that occurs occasionally—though not commonly—among all vertebrate animals.

The visiting hedgehog, lent by the Massachusetts Zoological Society, is friendly and tame and seems to take to his public appearances like a trouper. So long as he is a guest star in the Museum demonstrations, he will share the spotlight with a porcupine in an effort to clear up a centuries-old case of mistaken identity.

Visitors, it is hoped, will get the point.

TEMPLE EMUNAH

A special program will be held at Temple Emunah following the Friday evening service of Jan. 17.

The Oneg Shabbat will include the singing of Sabbath hymns and a discussion of the theme of the Rabbi's talk. He will give a critical review of Hannah Arendt's "Eichmann in Jerusalem". It will be entitled, "A desecration of the Dead."

The book deals with the recent trial of Adolf Eichmann and the many legal, moral and historical issues connected with it. Rabbi Rosenblum will explore the various points of view that have emerged on this matter and offer his own analysis of the book's approach and content. All are invited.

BANKING INSTRUCTOR

Maurice G. Wedge 90 Grandview rd., will instruct the course in instalment credit, during the second school semester, at the Boston Chapter, American Institute of Banking.

Wedge is a graduate of Burdett College and the Stonier Graduate School of Banking and has done further study work at Boston College, Boston University, and Columbia University.

A past chairman of the committee on Advanced Programming and Budgeting in Arlington, Wedge is an assistant vice president of the First National Bank of Boston.
